Gus spoke today at a FEMA conference called "Getting Real II: Inclusive Emergency Management for the Whole Community" about the need for communities to improve the way they prepare for, respond to, recover from and mitigate the impact of disasters. As Chairman of the Subcommittee on Emergency Preparedness, Response and Communication, Gus has made it a priority to ensure that communities are prepared to help all people during an emergency.