This past week, Gus joined the Congressional Manufacturing Caucus, and is currently the sole Florida representative in the caucus.

With more than 300,000 manufacturing jobs across the state of Florida, Gus understands the important role manufacturing will play when it comes to improving the local and national economy.

Gus also met with a local manufacturer, Tampa-based Southern Manufacturing Technologies, to discuss how the federal government can help increase manufacturing and create much-needed manufacturing jobs here in America.