

As Chairman of the Emergency Preparedness, Response, and Communications Subcommittee, Gus strives to work with officials at the federal, state, local and private level to prepare the nation for disasters and emergencies.

On Monday, Gus met with officials from Pasco County to address emergency preparedness and visit with the local leaders about what will help their emergency preparedness and response.

"Pasco County's officials are dedicated to protecting their citizens during emergencies, and I will continue working to ensure that they can effectively and efficiently keep Tampa Bay safe," Gus said after the meeting.

Attendees of the meeting included:

Annette Doying, Emergency Management Director, Pasco County
Chris Nocco, Sheriff, Pasco County
Tim Fussell, Fire Chief, Port Richey
John Schneiger, City Manager, New Port Richey
Billy Poe, City Manager, Dade City
